

LEGION WILL HELP DISABLED HEROES

Home for Invalid Veterans Is Planned by Camden County Organization

POST WILL PRESENT A FLAG

A movement to establish a convalescent home in South Jersey for war invalids was begun today by American Legion posts in Camden County. It is planned to establish a "buddy" hospital where all South Jersey soldiers who still are suffering from the effects of wounds sustained in the recent war may receive special treatment. Similar hospitals are being operated in Morris, Bergen and other North Jersey counties with great success.

Notices asking co-operation in the movement were mailed to the Executive Boards of Gloucester, Burlington and Salem County American Legion posts by Harold W. Bennett, secretary of the Camden County Executive Council. A meeting of the representatives of the four counties was held on June 3 at the Camden Legion headquarters. Agitation for a Legion hospital was brought to a head by a visit of Joseph L. Sears, commander of the Department of New Jersey, and H. Patterson, New Jersey State chairman of the Hospitalization Committee, to Camden last Friday night. The two officials are touring the State in an effort to secure a favorable sentiment for the hospitalization movement.

Commander Sears condemned the present treatment accorded to shell-shocked veterans, and declared that many patients were found to be suffering from malnutrition in several institutions he had visited.

In denouncing the lack of individual care embodied in the treatment of veterans, he asserted that it was up to the American Legion to shoulder the work of restoring their country to health. He said the greatest impediment in the restoration work is the absence of home atmosphere in the hospitals where the soldiers are confined.

Chairman Patterson outlined the work already accomplished through the aid of the "home" hospitals in North Jersey. He declared the public would readily back the Legion in hospitalization work. He also spoke on the means by which the funds may be obtained.

Louis Le Duc, of Haddonfield Post, was appointed as the representative of Camden County on the State Hospitalization Committee.

A moonlight excursion will be conducted by Raymond E. Greeley Post about the 1st of July. Comrade Allen has been appointed chairman of the excursion. The May issue of the official post paper, the Dugout, has made its appearance in a larger size. The Legion Merit Medal will be ready for distribution the second week in June and the winners will be announced at that time. Business meetings of the post are held every Tuesday evening at 3020 Lancaster avenue. Former service men living in the neighborhood are invited to become affiliated with the post.

"Mrs. Black's Pink Tea" will be presented by the dramatic club of Post No. 80, under the auspices of the British Great War Veterans' and Students' Chapter, Friday evening. On the same evening the girls of the post will be tendered a reception at Kugler's by Post No. 142. A meeting of the Executive Committee will be held Tuesday evening in the local Legion headquarters.

Hazleton Post has decided to take part in the national essay contest on the subject, "How the American Legion Can Help America." The contest is open to girls and boys from twelve to eighteen years of age and efforts will be made to interest local competitors. Plans are progressing to hold the contest in June and the winners will be announced at that time. Business meetings of the post are held every Tuesday evening at 3020 Lancaster avenue. Former service men living in the neighborhood are invited to become affiliated with the post.

RUM SEIZED ON SHIP

Customs Officers Make Haughty When Crew Acts Suspiciously

Customs officers found twenty-five cases of liquor on board the British steamship Glendora, unloading a cargo of sugar from Cuba yesterday at Pier No. 62, south, under charter of the Atlantic Fruit Company. The discovery was the result of the suspicious actions of members of the crew, which led to an investigation by Customs Inspectors Peters and Wardell.

"Wardell and I were on board the ship near a hatch," Peters said. "After it had been unloaded the crew seemed anxious to cover it, a thing that is unusual. The crew always seems to be covering the other hatches are unloaded before covering them up, unless it is raining. Other actions on the part of the crew made us suspicious, so we investigated. We found a case in nearly every obscure corner of the hatch."

SAVES WIFE IN RUNAWAY

William H. Krug Stops Horse on Edge of Wissahickon Creek

Riders along Wissahickon drive were provided with a real thrill yesterday by the quick action of William H. Krug, 6300 Sherwood road, Overbrook, who saved his wife from probable death when her horse ran away.

Mr. and Mrs. Krug started from the Kildare Riding Academy for a jaunt through the Park. After they had gone a short distance along the Wissahickon the horse ridden by Mrs. Krug became unmanageable. Mr. Krug started in pursuit. Several horsemen who unsuccessfully tried to stop the runaway, gave him a wide path.

He finally got abreast of the fleeing horse and stopped it on the brink of the creek. The animal stopped so suddenly Mrs. Krug was thrown to the ground and stunned.

Man, 73, Jumps to Death

Albert E. Burger, seventy-three years old, committed suicide yesterday morning by jumping from a window in the third floor of his home, 1015 North Chestnut street. He was a patient in Children's Homeopathic Hospital. These physicians pronounced him dead. Burger had been ill for a long time, and had often threatened to end his life. His body was taken to an undertaking establishment at Broad and Chestnut streets.

This Great Rebuilding Sale Is Moving Furniture Out Fast

¶ We knew it would because we are marking down all Furniture on its arrival from the factory. Marking it down to prices that Furniture has not reached since price revision and the lessened cost of raw materials became effective many months ago. Reductions that we did not desire or expect to make at this time, but which we had to make because we need the room and must move the Furniture.

¶ Not in forty-one years have we been so overcrowded for space. As Furniture keeps coming in from our own and the other great factories it is clogging up half a dozen departments. Chiefly because all the space in the seven buildings that we have just demolished to make room for the new four-acre addition is temporarily lost to us. Moreover, these savings come at the most opportune time in years—on the eve of the revival of prosperity, and in the Spring-time when hundreds are moving into new homes, furnishing Seaside and Country Cottages, or touching up the various rooms of the home with Odd Pieces of Furniture and Furnishings.

¶ Above all, bear in mind that this Furniture must go—Furniture as handsome, as sturdy as ever graced our vast galleries—and kept going until we have cleared the space sufficient for our work.

A homelike and imposing Living Room whose chief charm is in the selection and grouping of appropriate pieces of Furniture and adornments, such as are here illustrated from the thousands of pieces that grace our salesrooms. No matter what the setting, whether it be from the vogue of Italy's Renaissance, or the plain American interiors of our forefathers, we have the Furniture that will give to Living Room, Dining Room, Bedroom or Hall the comfort and elegance which each interior demands—and without great expense.
